

The Indian Express: 01.10.2021

Ambedkar University receives more than 19,000 applications for UG admissions

The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

More than 19,000 candidates have so far registered for undergraduate courses in Delhi government-run Ambedkar University (AUD), according to officials. Thursday will be the last day to register for the course.

Till Wednesday, the university had received 19,887 registrations. The varsity holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University. The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule.

The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July. The last date for PG admissions was September 15. The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

The Times of India: 30.09.2021

Admission to UG courses: Online registrations at Ambedkar University Delhi close today

NEW DELHI: Online registrations for admissions to undergraduate courses at Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) are set to close on September 30. The university has received over 19,000 applications this year for its various undergraduate courses, senior officials said.

Registrations for admissions to the various undergraduate courses had started on July 12 and the last date for registrations was extended by over a month. The varsity offers 17 undergraduate courses across its campuses at Kashmere Gate and Karampura.

Admissions to the merit-based courses will be based on cut-off lists to be declared by the university. The varsity reserves 85 per cent of the seats for students from Delhi and the remaining 15 per cent will be for outstation students.

News 18: 30.09.2021

Ambedkar University Delhi Admissions: Over 19,000 Register for UG Courses

The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 at Ambedkar University.

More than 19,000 candidates have so far registered for undergraduate courses in Delhi government-run Ambedkar University, according to officials. Thursday will be the last day to register for the course.

Till Wednesday, the university had received 19,887 registrations. The varsity holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University. The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule. The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July. The last date for PG admissions was September 15. The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

India Today: 30.09.2021

Delhi govt-run Ambedkar University to release first cut-off for UG courses on Oct 5

Ambedkar University has released the first cut-off for UG courses on October 5. The Delhi government-run Ambedkar University (AUD) will release its first cut-off for undergraduate courses on October 5, varsity officials said on Thursday. The university reserves 85 per cent seats for candidates from the national capital and announces separate cut-offs for candidates from Delhi and outside Delhi.

More than 19,000 candidates had registered for undergraduate courses in the university till Wednesday.

The registrations will close at midnight on Thursday.

The university holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University. AUD's cut-offs, like DU, have also been soaring with every year.

Previous years' cut off

Last year, the highest cut-off was 99 per cent for Psychology for aspirants from outside Delhi.

The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10, but later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July.

The last date for PG admissions was September 15.

The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

NDTV: 30.09.2021

Ambedkar University Delhi Admission: Over 19,000 Register For UG Courses So Far

The university holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University. The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule.

More than 19,000 candidates have so far registered for undergraduate courses in Delhi government-run Ambedkar University, according to officials.

Thursday, September 30, will be the last day to register for the course. Till Wednesday, the university had received 19,887 registrations. The university holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University. The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule.

The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July. The last date for PG admissions was September 15. The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

opoyi.com : 29.09.2021

Ambedkar University Delhi admission: Over 19K register for UG courses so far

More than 19,000 candidates have so far registered for undergraduate courses in Delhi government-run Ambedkar University, according to officials.

Thursday will be the last day to register for the course.

Till Wednesday, the university had received 19,887 registrations. The varsity holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University.

The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule.

The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July.

The last date for PG admissions was September 15.

The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

Devdiscourse: 29.09.2021

Ambedkar University Delhi admission: Over 19K register for UG courses so far

The Ambedkar University Delhi AUD is yet to release its cut-off schedule. The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30. The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July. The last date for PG admissions was September 15. The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.

More than 19,000 candidates have so far registered for undergraduate courses in Delhi government-run Ambedkar University, according to officials.

Thursday will be the last day to register for the course.

Till Wednesday, the university had received 19,887 registrations. The varsity holds merit-based admissions by releasing cut-offs like the Delhi University.

The Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) is yet to release its cut-off schedule.

The university had first extended the last date for registration for undergraduate and postgraduate admissions to September 10 and later it had again extended the date for UG registration to September 30.

The registration for UG admissions began on July 12 while for PG courses, it commenced at the end of July.

The last date for PG admissions was September 15.

The total number of seats available in undergraduate and postgraduate courses is 1,953 in the AUD.